SATOR SQUARE

To contact Sator Square for correspondence or booking consideration, call 619-315-3823, or send a Myspace message to/from our Myspace site at <http://www.myspace.com/satorsquare>

Sator Square is a band of musicians that like our metal a little on the dark side. Until our first release takes wing, you can listen to some of our tunes from our MySpace site at <http://www.myspace.com/satorsquare>. The band formed in 2003 in Spring Valley, CA and we all live in the San Diego area. Just doing what we like best. Most people think our music sounds like a horror movie soundtrack. We love our friends in San Diego and on Myspace, so it is high time to let the experiment out of the cage. You might call it controlled insanity... See our official website at <http://www.satorsquare.net>

Ron Lerma – Lead Vocals

Ron was born in San Diego, CA and grew up in the hills of Tennessee. He was first introduced to the power of Heavy Metal when his teacher disciplined him after he brought a Kiss record to school for show-and-tell. He grew up singing his whole life, singing Sabbath, Priest and Maiden songs. He moved back to San Diego in his teens and has been here ever since. In addition to being former singer for the bands Roach Bone and Teabag, Ron has also been seen performing for any one of many tribute bands including Piece of Mind, Monsters of Rock, and Deeper Purple. His influences include Bruce Dickinson, Ronnie James Dio, Ian Gillan, and Robert Plant. Contact Ron by email at ron@satorsquare.net

Grover Ballmer–Guitar

Influences: Iron Maiden, Kreator, Slayer, Sodom, Depeche Mode, Black Sabbath, DIO, Judas Priest, Forbidden, Suffocation, Dead Kennedy's, The Exploited, Possessed, Destruction, Megadeth, S.O.D., Anthrax, Vio-lence, Testament, Exodus, Cannibal Corpse, Helloween, Pestilence, Death, Psychotic Waltz, Vader, Crematory, Uli Jon Roth, Sepultura, Accept, Metallica, Pink Floyd, Overkill, Motor Head, AC/DC, Scorpions.....I have always been a Metal Head! When I was young my uncle's would play me albums by such bands as Black Sabbath, Led Zeppelin, The Beatles, Pink Floyd, Jimi Hendrix, Van Halen. It couldn't get enough of it. I was then turned onto Venom, Iron Maiden, Judas Priest and a ton of other Metal bands by my friend's older brother around 1979-1980. I've worked with many bands and clubs. I worked in Tijuana, Mexico from 1989-1993 at Iguanas. I worked security and stage hand. During this time I got to see the behind the scenes chaos. It was fun though. Here are a few of the bands I got to work with: Slayer, Anthrax, Kreator, P.I.L., Body Count, Bad Religion, Nirvana, Pearl Jam, Exodus, Merciful Fate, Testament, Bad Brains, The Exploited, Biohazard, Hole, Don Dokken, George Lynch, Mr. Bungle, Circle Jerks, Badlands, D.R.I., Dark Angel, Overkill, Psychotic Waltz, Coroner, Sanctuary, Forbidden, Death Angel, Death, Pestilence, Carcass, Prong, Pig face, Dinosaur Jr., Bullet Boys, The Damned, The Cramps, Gwar and more than I can remember right now. I've played in 2 other bands before we started Sator Square. I was in a band called Vampire and the other band never had a name. Contact Grover by email at grover@satorsquare.net

Tom Dustin – Lead Guitar

(Theron "Tomass" Dustin)

Music a creative outlet that I need in my life. Its also a way to let out my aggressive, sad ,angry, or even happy moods. I use those feelings and put them into my music. It also gives me something else to do besides masturbate. My influences are Tony Iommi, The Beatles, Randy Rhoads, Faith No More, Pink Floyd, Korn, Satan, Jesus Christ, and the Big Bang Theory. As a guitar player and music writer in the bands Prophecy and N.M.E, I have had lots of success entertaining myself, and if others like it that's great, and if not, that's ok too. Will Schmehr—Keyboards

I was born In Yokosuka, Japan naval base and moved to San Diego, CA at the age of 5. When I turned 6 I started my first lessons on the piano and studied the piano until the age of 14 when I moved back to Japan. I stopped studying the piano, but started playing in heavy metal bands. Nameless bands, but fun since it helped keep my playing in check. In 1988 I moved back to San Diego and stopped playing for a time. Then in 1994-1995 I met Tom Dustin. We started to talk about forming a band. We jammed out with one another for about the next 7-8 yr's. Finally, Tom convinced me that we had something to share to the world so we created Sator Square. We then found Grover, Ron, Jeff, and Blackie. The rest is what the future has in store for us. Contact Will by email at will@satorsquare.net

Jeff Sheets—Bass Guitar

Growing up south of Detroit in the 1970s was interesting if you like rock music. Bands like Led Zeppelin, Black Sabbath, Kiss, Alice Cooper, and Rush are what inspired me to pick up the guitar and later the Bass. I was dubbed Power Freak because of an incident involving a school dance that ended with the power being cut in the middle of our last tune.

The Boogie Ballroom and the Mad Hatter had both mysteriously burned to the ground by the time I was old enough to play the bar circuit. We still managed to do the Rock Garden and the 65 Club whenever possible. In the early 80s, I toured with Flying Tiger and Steel Pawn throughout Michigan and Ohio then moved to Arizona where I hooked up with Hunter, where we recorded studio tracks and played at the local hangouts such as the Bashful Bandit.

In 2005 After a long break to start a family, I got my licks back in shape and joined Sator Square in early 2006. My style influences include Geezer Butler, Geddy Lee, Les Claypool, and Steve Harris. Contact Jeff by email at jeff@satorsquare.net
